Good morning parents,

I hope that you are well. You will have heard media reports about new guidance issued by DE re return to school. The full guidance is being released this Wednesday or Thursday and I will wait until I have read it before releasing final arrangements for our school.

It is evident however, at this stage that the removal of the 1m social distancing requirement should facilitate a full return of all pupils which we had referenced, as a possibility, when I issued part time return information in June.

Thank you for your patience and support, I will be in communication re the definitive plan in the early stages of next week.

Yours in partnership,

Mrs Monaghan.
